

State COVID-Operation Snapshot for Hawaii

Statewide Mask Order: Yes.

Gov. David Ige's COVID-19 emergency proclamation requires face covering for customers at or waiting to enter a place of business and for employees who have contact with customers or goods.

Statewide Travel Restrictions: Yes.

There is a mandatory self-quarantine requirement for all individuals arriving in Hawaii, for 14 days or the duration of the visit, whichever is shorter.

Current Executive Order Status: Part 2. Beyond Recovery: Reopening

Beginning in June 1, Hawaii will transitioned to Part 2: Re-opening of the Beyond Recovery: Reopening Hawai'i, four part plan. Manufacturing is open with social distancing and safe practices.

Businesses in operation must practice social distancing, maintain separate operating hours for high-risk populations and make "readily available" hand sanitizers and sanitizing products.

On April 1, Gov. Ige also issued travel restrictions requiring inter-island travelers in Hawaii to self-quarantine for 14 days upon arrival, with exemptions for those considered essential under the federal CISA guidance. These travel restrictions remain in effect until Part 3.

ADDITIONAL RESOURCES

- Beyond Recovery: Reopening Haawai'i Plan – Read Here
- Hawaii Original Stay at Home Order - Click Here
- Hawaii Opening nonessential retail – Click Here
- Most Recent Hawaii Extension of Stay at Home — View Here
- Hawaii Inter-Island Travel Restrictions — Learn More
- Hawaii Inter-Island Traveler Form — See More
- Hawaii COVID-19 Resources Page - Click Here

Last updated July 29 at 4:30 pm.